

Doc.

The attached is a letter from Vincent Gondwe and his father. I was to come and help in pleading for forgiveness for the father, but my illness prevents me from coming to you.

The man is loyal to you but he gets thoroughly confused by Government officials.

His guilt is clear, he has betrayed and my only cause for recommending him for forgiveness is that you are already forgiving some of your worst enemies. Moreover the man has really suffered at the hand of anonymous Malawi fighters — being beaten to unconsciousness, burning of house, ostracisation, etc. Can you forgive? Yr son, Masauko
