history. It is very important that our history should not be forgotten. Therefore, uncle, please, write it down, so, that it be copied and be studied in schools later. If you write down in full in Chichewa, I shall write it in English, so that it can be remembered by all our children, who will be coming after we are dead.

When I was a little boy, my grand-mother, the one who went to Chipeta with the late your father, Kaninga', when he moved there for a while, used to tell me the history of Kasungu. She used to tell me that the name of the mountain that we now call Kasungu was Kenje. But because of Mwase's ability to fight and preventing the Ngoni from conquering the country, the name of mountain was changed from Kenje to Kasungu, meaning the keeper or protector of the people. Now, Uncle, I want you to write a full history. So that our people can know where we were before we came to Kasungu and what we did and who were our chiefs.

This is one of the reasons why I would like to have school of our own, where we can teach the children things about our people. So, please, Uncle, write down the full history. Beginning from the very start of our tribe and up to now.

With kindest regards.

Yours sincerely,

Hastings K. Banda.
