

INDIANA UNIVERSITY.
JUN 13 1882

Samuel Cross
Profr

Bloomington Ind.
June 10. / 882.

Dr. Cross,

Bloomington Ind.

Dear Sir,

I understand that you have not yet made definite arrangements for the teaching of elocution in the University next year and as there are some things in your course of study that I would like to take, would be glad to have ^{you} consider an application from me for the work of elocution.

I am teaching here now, and have had several years experience in the work. This with my natural taste for subject gives me assurance that you would not be disappointed in me as a teacher and if you could, by giving me this work, allow me to make the advances

I desire to make in the languages it would be an inestimable service.

Prof Farner knows something of me, but if you decide to favorably consider my application I will furnish you any reference you desire.

Hoping this may not prove an annoyance,
I am

Very Respectfully Yours

Lucretia A Baker.