

The Journal,

JOHN C. NEW & SON, PROPRIETORS.

Indianapolis,

1888

Dr. Samuel Moss.

Dear Sir :- I wish you to notice the article in to-day's Journal on Indiana Asbury University. It is the second of a series & is devoted to the Educational interests of the State - a notice of Berea Haute Schools, Rose Polytechnic, Normal School, etc appeared in October.

I wish to visit the State University at a time that will be most to the interest of the School, and shall be largely guided by your advice in the matter. If you have at hand any catalogue or history of the school and its graduates, I should like to see copy that I may post up - I have not² corresponded with Gordon about the matter, and don't know how he feels toward the Journal - He certainly has no cause, for he took the editorial field at his own risk. But I should be very much pleased if he would lend his eminent knowledge and facile pen to the scientific interests of the state, through the local columns of the Journal as Prof.

Coulter and Prof. Kirkwood have so often and so kindly done. The same for Prof. Van Duzee. Popular articles on Natural Science - Electricity, Chemistry, Zoölogy and Botany by the eminent teachers of the state schools, help the (a) writer (a) the school (3) the

The Journal,

JOHN C. NEW & SON, PROPRIETORS.

Indianapolis,

188

people, and do no harm to the newspaper interest. Shall be pleased to hear from you, and when it will do the most good, to visit the school — especially the scientific departments, as I am most interested in those, and as largely by them, the practical value of our schools to the people is estimated. With best wishes, I am
 Sincerely W. Brayton M.D.