Rev. Lemuel Mass, D.D.,
President Indiana University,

Bloomington, Ind,

My Dear Sir,

The manuscript of your catalogue came yesterday, and Mr. Burford the State Printer, promises that it shall be printed as soon as possible. I have impressed upon him your desire that there shall be no delay. The Purdue catalogue came in just before yours and has got the start in that way, President Smart having got Mr. Burford's promise to print it immediately.

In looking over your manuscript, I observed that, from using a printed page of the catalogue of last year, and not making proper changes, your commencement day is fixed for the same day of the month as it was last year. There are also some other similar errors growing out of the same cause. I was afraid to make changes, lest I might run into some error myself. If you read the proof you will of course perceive and correct the errors, but if only the printer reads it they may remain.

Yours Sincerely,
H. G. Porter.
