June 18th 1891

President Jordan,
Dear Sir:

I shall mail you a copy of my Great Russian Animal Tales which are just out, from New York to-morrow, and regret being unable to add an earlier publication of mine entitled 'Naturpersonification in der Kunst und Poesie der Alten'. Perhaps you have learned that I have resigned at Earlham and thereby obtained full freedom of decision for the coming year. I have been offered a position of $1500 for the year after next, but shall not accept for the present.

While in Baltimore at Marshall Elliott's house — he himself has just left for Europe — I learned that Mr. Matzke has resigned, though his salary at the State University has been raised to $1800. If the latter is correct I feel somewhat inclined to accept his position if offered to me for the year after next, though I should rather spend the coming year in the study of Germanic literatures than Romance. You know real scholars in Modern Languages are scarce. My German address will be for a time: Borsfleth, Glücksstadt.

Yours respectfully
A. Gerber.
