

ISAAC JENKINSON,

PROPRIETOR OF THE

DAILY AND WEEKLY PALLADIUM

—AND—

BOOK AND JOB PRINTER,

831 AND 833 MAIN STREET.

Richmond, Ind., April 6 1892

Dr Coulter

Dr Sir: Yours of the 31 March was duly received at the Palladium office during my absence and laid away for me but forgotten till found today. This excuses the delay in reply.

I suppose we could supply the demands of Prof. Bryan, but would he be worth holding if he has set his heart upon joining London. If you think best to do so, I have no doubt you can safely promise Bryan that we will do our best in performance of agreement if he will do his.

I am pleased at the good reports which come up from the University.

Very Respectfully
I. Jenkinson
