Parallelism between armies and teams and between generals and coaches
Greatness of our soldiers when we were advancing in Korea

At the time of amphibious landing

McArthur the greatest general of all time

Now -- 1 American can't lick 5 Chinese

McArthur too old, too vain, too aloof from his troops and his command

His command is poorly organized and he is a terrible executive

The building of a team and the building of a department

The building of a building

The foundation has been laid -- The walls are nearly finished. Soon the completed structure will be easy for all to see

Congratulations to the staff and the team. We are proud of them

I am told that there is a restlessness born of uncertainty.

There is no certainty in life except that which we win with our own courage, resourcefulness, calmness and hard work.

Each day's work is sufficient unto itself and worthy of your best

The man who quits because he may not be able to finish the season is certain not to finish

Some things are certain

Trained men are essential

Officers are essential
