

Wharfedale Dec. 9. 1835

My Dear

Enclosed I forward you a statement of your acct with me. I know not how I can get the balance due you to you When you want the money perhaps you can send an order on a bill at sight & I will pay it. You may meet or know some of your merchants going through here who can take you the money. When you draw for the money you can make the calculations of interest at 5 p.c. which was our bargain. The money was worth that interest to us & which we will most cheerfully pay. If you do not need this money you can still let it lay in our hands at the same interest. We have nothing new here, all well, Craig rec'd a letter this morning from Andrew who was very well & cheerfully pursuing his studies.

I am who is now at Melrose rec'd a letter from Abigail yesterday dated at Cambridge all very well but mother who is now so well as she was in the summer.

The Doctor, Sister Mrs. Wise was buried on last Saturday having died in child bed. I have neither time nor space to write about men & things, but will be pleased to hear from you how you all are & how your success comes on.

Please remember me to all your family with much affection. Yours &c John C. Fitch
