Bloomington Indiana, May 31st 1877.

Prov. Mess and Faculty.

Dear Sirs

Having heretofore absented myself from recitations because of a lack of appreciation of my duty, I now have found that I made a gross mistake and that my conduct was contrary to the discipline of the College. I am sorry for what I have done and wish to resume recitations and will try and make amends for the past by my actions in the future. Yours very respectfully, W. M. Floyd
