Anderson reported that Purdue has chosen a four man bridge team and has challenged Indiana to a bridge meet sometime Before Christmas. The team is sponsored by the Union, and therefore the Purdue union has asked us to sponsor a similar team. Discussion about the advisability of running a campus-wide tournament was heard and it was decided that in view of the shortness of time, a small tournament to pick a present set of champions and a large tournament in the spring would best answer the objections. Anderson, Gates, and Krueger are to help run off the tourney Saturday afternoon from 2:00 to 5:00. Anderson is to see Professor Galloway for help.

Beck reported that Professor Tangiman of the school of music would likerto have a reciprocal trade agreement with the Union about their records. Due to the risks involved in transit and the impossibility of fixing responsibility for broken records, the proposal was rejected. Mr. Patrick has been unable to get an appropriation for additions to the Union record collection.

Visher reported that there will be another freshman-senior discussion Thursday night, nov. 27. The problem of how to increase attendance at Forums was discussed. President Gates suggested that one hour of credit be given to a merit service worker in each house and dorm to make announcements about each Union function.

Case reported that the student government committee is investigating, among other organizations, Union Board's governmental powers. Case has reported to the committee that the Union Board is not a governmental body, and the functions that it performs usually need financial underwriting, therefore taking them out of the jurisdiction of the student government body.

Eason reported that the chess team lost its match to Purdue. Eason also asked for permission to write a letter to Mr. Biddle asking for an appropriation to provide facilities for a camera club dark-room in the available space found in the Union building under the faculty club lounge. Visher suggested making this space into a puttering room.

Eason suggested that drapes be hung in the Bryan room and that books be purchased for its bookshelves.

Bridges suggested that the Union board try to have a walk built behind the library to the Union building making it more accessible to the students living northwest of the campus.

Moeller and Ricke are to have charge of the rebroadcasts of the out-of-town basketball games this season.

Lucas reported that the dancing in the Commons was so popular that it will be continued on Friday and Saturday nights. The Bucket Battle, the dance before the Purdue game, lost $23.27. The opening of the formal season is to be on Dec. 5, with Herbie Holmes' orchestra. The dance committee is contacting campus organizations urging them to have formal dinners preceding the dance. Pres. Gates and Mary Rees, president of AWS, are going to try to get 1:30 hours for those coeds going to the dance.

Visher suggested that a Christmas party be given on the night before Christmas vacation starts, with stunts by various organizations.

Bartley moved and Anderson seconded that the first edition of the minutes be rebound. Motion carried.

The Daily Student has asked to review the old minutes of the board regarding the old question of student government. Ricke is to review those minutes with a representative of the paper.

Krueger reported that the following letters have been sent out: to Blue Key and Aeons about point systems; to Scabbard and Blade about a formal dinner before the dance; and to Mr. Patrick about appropriations for the banquet and keys for merit service workers.

Lucas suggested that the convocation speeches be taken down by shorthand students and then printed and made available to the students. He is to talk to Mr. Bittner, chairman of the convocation committee. The same thing might be done for the forums.

Mr. Patrick reported that $123.60 is available to send our delegates to the Union Board convention.

Case moved and Bartley seconded for adjournment at 8:40.

Roll call: All present
Minutes read and corrected.

Bridges asked all workers at the coffee hours who want credit for their work to sign up for the hours. All board members should turn in hours by the end of the month.

Visher reported that there were 17 boys at the freshman-senior discussion last Thursday, and that there is another one scheduled for this week.

The Forum Thursday Dec. 4 is to be sponsored jointly by the Association of University Women and the Union Board.

The ushers at the music auditorium series who have paid positions have not been getting merit service hours in addition, and discussion was held about giving them hours too.

It was suggested that the Union sponsor a contest for some new yells. Bartley is to contact the cheer leaders and report at the next board meeting.

Lucas reported that Bittner, chairman of the convocation committee, liked that suggestion to print the convocation speeches presented here, but that he believes the cost would be prohibitive, because a special court stenographer would have to be imported to take down the speeches. He asked for a list of reasons from the board about why this would be a good practice. Lucas is to report back to him.

The tickets for the opening of the formal season are out now, and ticket salesmen are selling on the campus.

Lucas also complained that the Daily Student is not cooperating on publicity for the dance, as evidenced by the small notice given the extension of coed hours to 1:30 for the dance.

Bartley will contact Mr. Clevenger about the yell Leaders' uniforms that are to be bought.

Krueger reported that Scabbard and Balde will be unable to hold a formal dinner before the dance Friday night.

Lucas, Ricke, and Gates are going to the convention at Lincoln Dec. 5-6.

Mr. Patrick announced that the fall sports banquet ran a total cost
