

Sept. 7, 1942

Roll Call: All Present.

Minutes read and approved.

Anderson reminded the Board that no gourd had been sent to Purdue for the Oaken Bucket.

Bridges announced that "Our Indiana" booklets had been distributed to most freshmen. He said that 1400 were distributed the first day.

Wolf reported that the Coffee Hour committee had met and that the day for Coffee Hour (Tuesday or Wednesday) would be decided at a meeting Sept. 9. He suggested that yeomen could be invited to the affairs as Union members. Lucas commented that yeomen-student barriers might be broken down in this way.

McKown reported that there would be a Record Hour Sept. 10.

Cox announced that Union ushers would be used at the Freshman convo Sept. 9.

Gallmeyer said that the Freshman Welcome banquet would be Tuesday, Sept. 22, and asked for suggestions on entertainment. The Board agreed on a minimum of speeches and extensive entertainment.

MacGill announced plans for the Union-A.W.S. dance Sept. 11. He said that a "freshman king" would be crowned at the dance as the handsomest freshman on campus. A promotional introduction was to be given Friday afternoon in the Commons.

Lucas read assignments of Board committees. He reminded the Board that the personnel committee must be put in running order and that a drive would be made for new service workers. Cox commented that he would like to hurry the selection of Auditorium ushers.

Swanson reported that cheer leaders would be selected soon.

Lucas appointed Bridges to work with Wolf on the organization of the personnel office in the place of Baernkopf. He also appointed Bridges, Ricke, McKown and MacGill to the qualifications committee for the coming selection. Wolf suggested that Blickman, an elected Board member who never held office, be considered for the position by action of the Board. It was pointed out that Blickman is a junior while Baernkopf was a senior member. A discussion of the class components of Union Board failed to show that a junior must replace a junior, etc., according to the Constitution. Lucas reminded the Board that routine procedure must be adhered to. The qualifications committee was ordered to meet Sept. 10.

Lucas read sections 1 and 2 of the Constitution concerning amendments in preparation to a discussion for amendment to modify the existing selection and election policy in accordance with the three-semester program. He pointed out that the Union must have a capacity Board throughout the year. Bridges said that the policy of one general election per year was sufficient. Lucas said that the present Constitutional stipulations were inadequate because of the annual selection clause. Anderson then suggested that selections could be held every two semesters with the agreement that selectees remain in school for two consecutive terms following. Lucas appointed Bridges, Anderson, Cox, MacGill and himself to a committee to draft the amendment. They were directed to meet in two weeks.

Mr. Jordan read a letter from Charles Peterson concerning a challenge billiards tournament. Peterson wrote that he would furnish medals for the contest. Mr. Jordan also said that the Men's lounge desk reported a special interest in chess and recommended the chess club be re-organized immediately.

Ricke moved for adjournment. Swanson seconded. Adjourned at 8:25 p.m.

Approved: Robert Lucas, President. Submitted: Ed MacGill, Secretary
