

Oct. 13, 1942

Roll Call: Cox and Swanson absent.

Minutes read and approved.

Ricke reported a successful Grid-Graph Oct. 10 and said that Alan Dunlap would supervise the scoreboard on Oct. 16.

Wolf took office hour schedules from members of the Board.

McKown said Record Hours had been successful and that Chas. Peterson had not yet given a definite hour for his performances.

Heath announced that Quarterback Hour would be Thursday evening because of the Auditorium series on Wednesday.

MacGill reported a loss of about $49 on the Oct. 9 dance and also said that no band had been signed for the Opening of the Formal Season. The Board approved Erskine Hawkins. MacGill reported on the mass meeting (see p. 299) and Lucas reminded the Board that 200 men must attend the meeting Oct. 22. MacGill also reported that the yeoman situation was well in hand, especially since the arrival of the WAVES. The Board left up to the personnel committee chairman the problem of providing workers for the campus scrap drive.

Lucas announced a dance in Alumni Hall each available Wednesday night for yeomen and WAVES alone.

Anderson was appointed to oversee a suitable 2-page layout for the 1943 Arbutus. No contracts were signed.

The Board considered it unnecessary to conduct a survey for revision of the "Our Indiana" booklet as suggested by John Visser. It was brought out that the booklet has received much favorable publicity.

Prof. Cogshall advised Wolf that he received Coffee Hour invitations the day following the affairs and asked a check into this matter. He also suggested that a front-row seat be purchased at the cost of the Union for the piano player in the Colored trio featuring the Chandler twins, to see Alec Templeton. Ricke so moved. Wolf seconded. Passed.

Mr. Jordan outlined a plan whereby a series of six lectures would be introduced during Record Hour on subjects pertaining to classical music. This project was approved. Lucas asked the Board to submit ideas to improve the Union curriculum. Wolf moved for adjournment. Meeting adjourned.

Approved:

Submitted:

Robert A. MacGill

President of the Board

Secretary of the Board