

January 11, 1944.

McCarty called the meeting to order.

Rich, Turner, and Howard absent.

Minutes read and approved.

McCarty announced the appointment of Leo Radigan as social chairman of the Board and Bill Beko as sports chairman.

Radigan reported:

The Purdue game was broadcast Saturday in the Commons and it would be a good policy to broadcast games in the future.

The Union-AWS dance was well attended last Saturday, but it was difficult to obtain student hostesses.

The Union-AWS dance on January 22 will be designated as the President's Ball, and voluntary donations for infantile paralysis will be made.

Wiggins reported the need for an additional record hour, conducted at the ASTP unit on Sunday afternoons.

Radigan moved that a record hour be scheduled in Memorial Hall at 1300 on Sunday afternoons. Beko 2nd. Carried.

Radigan suggested that University Cheerleaders receive awards in recognition for their services.

Beko moved that the Board sponsor the flooding of the tennis courts for ice skating. Wiggins 2nd. Carried.

Beko moved that the meeting be adjourned. Radigan 2nd. Carried.
