Board Meeting No. 10

The meeting was called to order by Norm Schnell at 7:30 P.M. Minutes were read and approved.

A ball game between freshmen and varsity is scheduled at the time the open Board meeting was to be held, November 30, so the date for the meeting was set for December 7.

Jerry Montgomery announced that a trophy, false teeth, was to be given to the men's quad for the cheer contest at last Friday's pep rally. For the Purdue rally, Montgomery suggested the cremation of John Purdue instead of the regular burial. This was approved. Fitzpatrick suggested having Bill Armstrong as speaker for the rally. Montgomery said that Larry Powell is handling the funeral services.

The idea of the Crimson Bull as a mascot was brought up again, and Montgomery said to wait until next year to promote it. Schnell asked that it not be put off. Buttons for the students or in their place, paper tags saying "Beat Purdue" are to be handed out. Tents saying the same are to be placed all over campus. Napkins for the Commons was suggested plus pompoms for the students to take to Purdue.

Capes for the card section was suggested by Norm Schnell. Also steps are being taken to have a card section at basketball games to be situated in the east end of the fieldhouse. Montgomery also said that the tumblers used at the last football game will be used at the basketball games.

Jerry Montgomery suggested having complete detailed reports in the form of a book at the end of the year.

Diann Brickley announced that Mid Winters Nights Dream is the theme for the Opening of Formal Season. Tickets will be $3.90. There will be programs for the dance this year. Jean Thiery's committee will be responsible for decorating the Commons for Christmas Eve on Campus.

Ted Pincus announced a sample of the results received from the Sampling Committee of a poll taken on the Fall Carnival and Bachelor of the Year Contest. There was brought up a complaint that not enough publicity was appearing in the Student, so Ann Porter, the Daily Student Reporter, suggested that there be a box placed in Carol Creed's office with which she would check directly for publicity for the paper. Ted also announced that the Union Brochure this year would consist of more quality and less quantity because of the excess left over in the past.

Dan Geist presented a resolution for a Junior Board consisting of three major chairmen from each division for the purpose of training for Union Board, plus the hope that some good suggestions will be given by this Board to the Union Board. It was decided to try this plan.

Jean Thiery announced that she had spoken to Miss Merrill, teacher of the Auditorium Series Class, and that she is most eager to give lectures in conjunction with a coffee hour, preceding these series. These lectures will be open to the entire student body.

Ted Pincus suggested more decorations for the Commons besides the plaques which were just put up. Jean Thiery announced that another project, consisting of plaques with organizational crests upon them is under way.

The Union Conference to be held December 10 and 11, was discussed and the entire Board decided to attend it.

The meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,

Union Board Meeting No. 11

President Norm Schnell called the meeting to order at 7:45 P.M. Diann Brickley was absent. The minutes were read and approved.

Al Rachels, representing the Arbutus, spoke on page space in the 1955 book for the Union. He asked the Union to buy three pages and a fourth one would be given to the Union in return for at least thirty dollars of publicity for the Arbutus queen. Jim Fitzpatrick moved that we take four pages under this plan. The motion was seconded and passed unanimously.

Dick Cardwell introduced Jackie Lineback, chairman of the Coffee Hour, who spoke on the progress and plans of her committee. Suggestions were given to her by the board members to help increase the turn out of people.

Ten Pincus introduced Sam Curtis who is in charge of the sampling committee.
