Valse moderato

Night - time brings back the mem - o - ries and makes my heart start to roam —
Shad - ows bring back the vis - ions of moth - er and my home sweet home —

I long to be back on my moth - er's knee, in my dear old fash - ioned home —
Each day I yearn and I long to re - turn to my In - di - an - a home —

Each time I see a syc - a - more I long to be back once more —
Mem - 'ries bring back the meadows and wild - wood where I used to play —

And there is an - oth - er one be - sides my moth - er That I'm long - ing for. —
All the bees are hum - ming seem to say I'm com - ing And I want to say. —

CHORUS.

When the breeze is blow-ing, home-ward I am go-ing, To my In-di-an-a p-f

home once more Ev-'ry night I'm dream-ing ev-'ry day I'm schem-ing Just how to build a bung-a-low where ros-es grow All the clouds of sad-ness turn to clouds of glad-ness Where the sun is shin-ing ev-'ry day So home-ward I'm bound and a heav-en I've found, In my In-di-an-a Home Sweet Home. ——— Home. ———
