A Picture Of Dear Old Ireland.

Lyric by BARTLEY COSTELLO.

Melody by JACK GLOGAU.

Tempo di Valse.

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It begins with a piano introduction in 3/4 time, marked 'Tempo di Valse'. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The piano part features a steady eighth-note accompaniment in the right hand and a more active bass line in the left hand. The vocal melody is simple and catchy, with lyrics written below the notes. The score is divided into five systems, each with a vocal line and a piano accompaniment line. The lyrics are as follows:

I've been asked why I raise my voice ev - er in praise Of the Em - er - ald Isle of the
 With her jew - els of lakes and her bogs and her brakes With her hills and her val - leys so sea — Sure my - self on - ly knows that my heart al - ways goes To Ire - land where e'er I be fair — Sure and ev' - ry one knows that her own shamrock grows In no oth - er land but there

Man - y's the time to de - scribe it I've tried But some - how there's something I miss — When I've What's the use tell - ing the few lit - tle things I've seen with these weak eyes of mine — I am told of it's beau - ties I'm not sat - is - fied So set your - self think - ing like this; — far from an an - gel and have - n't grown wings Nor have I the pow - er di - vine; —

Chorus.

Just im - a - gine that an an - gel were giv - en The task to paint a pic - ture — Of the place she'd choose to be in If heav - en were crowd - ed to the gates — Faith, she'd not stand guess - ing — But she'd take her brush in hand — And she'd start right in to paint you a pic - ture Of dear old Ire - - land. —

AMERICA'S FOREMOST COMPOSER

Have you ever stopped to consider what a writer's name means on a popular Song? Probably not, altho the first thing most people do after playing a number that impresses them is to see "who wrote it."

The name of

AL. PIANTADOSI

means the same on a sheet of music as "STERLING" on silver or "18 KARAT" on gold, for the simple reason that there is hardly a home in the United States without one or more PIANTADOSI compositions on its piano
