It Must Have Been Some Wonderful Boy (Who Taught Her How To Love)

By W. TRACY &
JACK STERN

CHORUS

She got her smile — from the sun — shine, — She got her tears from the rain, — The bird - ies in the trees taught her pret - ty mel - o - dies, And the pos - eek taught her to be vain —

A lit - tle owl up on a branch so high — taught her how to wink her eye, — And then a griz - ly bear, taught her how to hug, — She learned to bill and coo, — from a tur - tle dove, But it

To Think I Cried Over You

Words and Music by
W. TRACY and
JACK STERN

CHORUS

To think that I once cried o - ver you, — to think that you once made me feel blue — the love was drift - ed a - part — I thought that you had a heart, But love is some - thing that you never — know, — You see — mean what you — said to me, — But may be you'll be my true love some day —

Now don't i - ma - gine that your mem - o - ry haunts me, — I've given all my love to some - one who wants me, —

You'd Better Be Nice To Them Now!

Words and Music by
W. TRACY and
JACK STERN

CHORUS

Let - ter be nice — to them now, — Oh you'd bet - ter be nice — to them now —
Let - ter be nice — to them now, — Oh you'd bet - ter be nice — to them now —

Take your sweetie to a peach - or right a way — She may come in handy for a rain - y day —
If you're not rich then you must be a fool — You'll see — or have to work if you learn a trade —

all in all — of the way — Your job is at stake — an - y more — for you girl - ies it all — their own way — They're more in de - pend - ent each day —

don't know what may hap - pen in a year or two — By then there won't be an - y thing a girl can do — So be sur - prised if "we" have had a "clap" in time — And if we do, the men will all run out some - time — And
